OF A POORHOUSE.

Penniless and Saffering from Honorable Wounds Received in the Country's Service...Millions Squandered White Fachle Old Soldiers All But Starve, From the Chicago News.

When the people of Illinois established at Quincy the Soldiers and Sallors' Home it was for the express purpose of removing from the poorhouses of the State all inmates who had fought for their country either in the Mexican war or the war of the rebellion. Illinois is one of the four great "soldier States." The record which its volunteers made on the battlefields of the South and in the battles beyond the Rio Grande is one of which all the people are proud. It is their wish that no soldier who is a citizen of this State shall be compelled to end his days in a poor-

The law under which the home for old soldiers was established at Quincy

"Soldiers who are in the poorhouses of this State shall be admitted to the home in the first instance."

Well, there are more than fifty Union soldiers in the Cook county poorhouse to day.

There is no justice in caring for certain indigent soldiers and neglecting others equally worthy whose needs are just as urgent. If the Soldiers' Home will not accommodate all such army veterans let it be enlarged. This is one of the richest States in the Union. It has not a dollar of debt. Surely it can afford to take good care of all its poor who have supported the Union on southern battle fields.

But there is another important matter Some of the soldiers in the Cook County poorhouse are suffer-ing from wound received in the war: yet they draw no pensions. This indi-cates that the millions which this nation pays each year in pensions do not all go to the most deserving veterans. Take a few samples from the list:

Oscar Watts, aged 73; cullisted in the Thirteenth Ohio, Company I, in the spring of 1861. Served three months and re-enlisted in the same company. Was discharged in 1864 at Columbus, Ohio, Was wounded in the kuee at Franklin, Tenn. Is unable to work. Left his papers with a lawyer and has never heard of them since. John Pohr, aged 68; cullisted at Camp Douglas in March, 1862, in the Sixty-fifth Illinois Regiment. Company F. Servad a Illinois Regiment, Company F. Served a year and three months. Was discharged on secount of loss of an eye. Sent discharge papers to Washington in 1868; never heard papers to Washington in 1868; never heard of them again.

Ephraim Tunleliff; served two years in the Army; was wounded in right foot; is unable to work. Applied for a penaion; no attention paid to the application.

John Scott, aged 61; enlisted at New York, July 9, 1861; served on frigate Potomac two years and six months under Captains Powell and Gibson. Was transferred to the ship Nightingale, Captain Browner. Was discharged at Boston, June, 1894. Applied for pension six years ago, but has heard nothing from Washington.

William Thomas Pope, aged 62; enlisted

William Thomas Pope, aged 62; enlisted February 2, 1862, in Cincinnati, under Cap-tain Smith and General Warren; received an honorable discharge November 7, 1804; was wounded four times. His papers have been in Washington since June, 1889. That these men, penniless and suffer ing from honorable wounds received in the service of their country, should now be left to end their days in a county poorhouse is very disgraceful. This disgrace must be wiped out.

Republics are proverbially ungrate ful, but it is a revelation even to the most callous to know that not less than fifty old soldiers are inmates of a pauper asylum in Cook County. How many more may be ending their days in want and squalor elsewhere cannot be definitely known, but whatever the number, It is too great for the honor of the

The pension sharks who think of nothing but the rerating of pensioners already rich should be forced to spend weeks or months in a county poorhouse. They might then experience a revulsion of feeling in favor of the old soldiers who eat the bitter bread of charity owing to their country's

A nation that leaves any of its saviors to end their days in the poor-house is a mark for the scorn of the world. Millions of dollars for useless public buildings and old soldiers in want and wretchedness are incongruous. It is a national disgrace.

Cook County's poorhouse was not built to harbor the survivors of the war of the rebellion. Every pauper's grave filled by an old soldier dishonors this nation more than Washington's cenotaph can honor it.

Thrice dishonored is the nation whose debt of gratitude to its saviors is paid by crowding the weakest to the wall. Neither vice nor shiftlessness can dissolve the partnership of debt between the country and its old Mutric still keeps up his senseless talk about pitting his team against the Brotherhood Club in New York. He knows very well the League would not permit such a thing.

Baltimore papers are saying some very harsh things about Barnie's team. It is said to be very weak in batting and base running, and the only strong point is an admirable infield.

For the past few days the Cincinnatis have been engaging in their favorite pastime of acting as door-mats for Chapman's down-trodden Colonels from Louisville.

What did that resolution against Sunday exhibition games in the Brotherhood, passed last Wednesday, amount to? The Players' League sat down on Captain Comiskey. Yesterday the great captain virtually said "go to" to the powers that be and he put a great higher through the resolution. great hig hole through the resolution.

He says: "Expediency is elbowing principle out of doors. The Players' League is beginning to make mistakes. Where will it stop?"

OMAHA, NEB., April 10 .- The tenround fight between Harry Gilmore of Canada and Jimmy Lindsay of Omaha last night, was a very tame affair. The police were present in force and four ounce gloves were used. Gilmore proved himself by far the cleverer of the two men, but Referee McCune declared the fight a draw. Gilmore announced to the disgusted audience that he was willing to fight Lindsay in private, and a match may be arranged.

THE FIRST TEST MADE.

A Cable Car and Coach Make a Successful Trip, As announced vesterday afternoon in THE CRITIC, one of the new grip cars on the Seventh street line, with a coach attached, made a test run over the road from the power-house, at the foot of Seventh street, to Boundary and return. On board of the coach were President Hurt, Superintendent Saylor, Assistant Superintendent Thomas Downey and Directors Gloves, Reilly, Dunlap, Mc-Elhenny and Parke. The start was made at 3:45 o'clock, and in thirty-five minutes, which is ordinary horse-car time, the car reached the Seventh street terminus. When the cable cars alone are used the run to Boundary will be made in from twenty-one to twenty-five minutes. The test was perfectly successful. Forty more new cars are expected soon, and the drivers are being instructed as gripmen by experienced hands from other cities. The grip cars, which are similar to the ordinary summer cars, will seat twenty passengers, and the coaches twenty-six. The road will be in operation fully by May 1.

Just as the car was about to start yesterday a man not a director got aboard. The conductor stepped up to the outsider and said to him

You'll have to get off. "Why?" inquired the outsider.
"Because," said the conductor, "the directors are taking this car out to try, and nobody else is allowed on board. They don't want to be crowded." "Don't want to be crowded, hey? It won't be a week before you're yelling to the passengers to 'move up there' to make room for another passenger.

This sally was greeted with laughter by the directors. "That's right," said one of them, "let him ride." And the outsider made the round trip with the officials.

BEATEN TO DEATH

Rorrible Manner in Which a Monnisrows, N. J., April 10 .- Intelligence of a horrible murder comes from Hibernia, a small town about nine miles from here. It is a mining vil-lage, where about 200 Hungarians are employed.

On Monday night a party of miners were drinking in the principal saloon, when a quarrel broke out between three of the party about the payment for some frinks which they had had. The man who started the quarrel had been very unpopular for some time, and upon him other two set, and one of them shed his skull with a beer bottle.

His name was Paul Matiazcozki. He was 38 years of age and a German by birth. The names of the men who attacked him are Gerbulo Baricki and John Stanik. The tragedy occurred in Paul Kronolick's saloon and boarding-

The fact of Matiazcozki's death was not known to the police until yesterday morning.

After receiving the blow of the bottle

he was thrown down and kicked most brutally. The bartender then helped him out of the saloon and he staggered to his room in a boarding house near by Thence he was forcibly taken by his sallants, and, all bruised and bleeding and half unconscious, was hanged to a tree. The whole affair lasted but a few minutes. Passers-by found him and cut him down soon after the gang had gone, but life was all but extinct. He died soon afterwards.

There is a hot feeling in the neighborhood against the murderers. The police arrested three of his assailants shortly afterwards. Two are still sought by the police. The dead man's body was found to be frightfully mutilated. His head and body were a mass of contusions blue from the kicking which he had re-ceived. The prisoners were taken to the county jail and locked up there, still under the influence of liquor. They admitted having had a quarrel with the dead man about a year ago, and said there had been bad blood between them ever since, until the meeting, which culminated in the murder

Monday night. Upon making an examination the coroner found that nearly half the dead man had been kicked and beaten with bottles and clubs, but there was also a red ring round his neck where the rope had cut into the flesh. Recently there have been several fights and stabbing affrays among the miners, and not long ago, during the christening of a few weeks' old infant, the little one was crushed to death beneath the weight of a drunken fighter who fell upon it.

A DUCKING-BEE,

More Than Half a Hundred Women Thrown in a Creek,

PHILADELPHIA, April 10 .- A special from Shamokin to the Record says: Be tween fifty and sixty Hungarian women were thrown into the Shamokin Creek last evening by the angry miners at Hickory Ridge and kept there until thoroughly submerged and exhausted. Many savage struggles occurred be-tween the men and women, and while none were fatally injured dozens will feel the effects of the struggle for

The Hungarians have a peculiar custom, amounting to a religious duty, of throwing water on people for two days after Easter. They think it bad luck for the thrower to fall in an attempt to cover the victim with water. If successful it is thought that both will be lucky. The custom obtains among the most ignorant of Hungarians, with which the hamlet of Hickory Ridge abounds. Upon all who passed along the highway these Hungarians would hurl the water, and thus, after Easter, the American miners would invariably be greeted by buckets of water thrown into their faces as they emerged from Naturally fights occurred in conse quence, but heretofore the miners were oo chivalrous to battle with women. Yesterday the miners heard of an at-tempt by the women to duck Holden Chester, jr., and William Reinhart, two of the bosses. It was then decided to quit work in the evening, and, if any one were attacked, they would duck every Hungarian woman in the hamlet.

The whistle sounded "All home" at 6 o'clock. When the first four men gained earth's surface they were almost drowned with water from the buckets of a score of women. The angry American miners were at once re-en forced, and while a dozen rushed on the women and dragged them to the creek, a body of men went into every house in the hamlet in the search of Hungarian women.

The fight that ensued was very exciting and the scene a strange one. In short time the creek was alive with struggling women, while the banks were lined with hundreds of miners and English-speaking residents. As rushed upon her, picked her up in his arms and threw her back in the swift-running stream. Great care was taken that none of the women were drowned, although a number fainted. The Hungarian men were not strong enough to show fight. and remained maddened spectators from a distance. When the invasion of the hamlet occurred three of the women armed themselves with weapons and rushed from house to house, shrieking for their sisters to band and drive the
